出 访 报 告	一、 访问情况： This year, AECF 2019 is held from 06-08 November, 2019 in Incheon, Korea. All submissions are peer reviewed, where our session was hosted by the SSEM (Society for the Study of Emerging Markets). Befitting to the purpose of its foundation to graft theory to practice, the foundation has been making all efforts to lay a solid foundation to construct a regional and global cooperative network system to realize Asia economic integration by pursuing that the outcomes of this forum can be reflected in policy-making of related governmental institutions. The forum has several aspects to discuss in the meeting, such as: International Trade, E-commerce and

E-Business, Engineering Economy, Supply Chain Management, Knowledge Management, and lessons for developing Asian nations, such as Pakistan.

Wednesday, 06 November 2019 was the opening ceremony, registration to the conference and the opening speech, delivered by Dr. Jehoon Park, the Chair of the foundation and Professor at the Incheon

National University, Korea.

二、访问成果

Thursday, 07 November 2019 started with the useful speech of the key note speaker, Jehoon Park.

Thereafter, the formal sessions of the conference started at the designated meeting rooms with really helpful comments of the session chairs. During the morning, noon and afternoon, following sessions were held by the Institutes: “INU Institute for Unification and Integration”, “Yellow Sea Peace Forum

1”, “Yellow Sea Peace Forum 2”, “Association for Comparative Economic Studies”, “and “An alternative decomposition of gross exports into value-added”. Each of the session consisted of several high quality papers.

The session related to “Association for comparative studies” were of my interest and I attended the morning and noon sessions. The topics “BRICS Now and Then” discussed were really high quality and innovative topics which helped me to build several new understandings, while made several other concepts clear to me and broadened my horizon.

The paper was presented by the Professor. Josef C Brada from Arizona State University. After the paper I had a very useful conversation with the professor Brada and other participants. It was a very informative session.

The next day, 08 November 2019 starts with morning session that was arranged by the “Japanese Association for comparative Economic Studies”. Followed by the “Korean Association for comparative Economic Studies” session. Thereafter, a session was held by the MAU & Youth Committee. During the lunch break, we had several fruitful discussion with different professors.
